

Article 19

Every one has the right to live. Human life is protected by the law. No one shall be illegally deprived of his or her life.