- (b) the officer has complied with rule 111.

- (2) Where an officer decides to charge a prisoner with a breach of discipline—
- (a) the charge must be brought by the officer serving a written notice of the charge on the prisoner;
 - (b) the charge must be brought within 48 hours of the discovery of the act or omission giving rise to the charge but, where this is not possible because of any delay in notifying the Governor under rule 111 due to exceptional circumstances, the charge must be brought within 48 hours after the Governor has been notified; and
 - (c) written notice of the charge must be served on the prisoner at least 2 hours before the Governor commences a disciplinary hearing under rule 113.
- (3) Where an untried prisoner is reported by an officer under rule 111 at any time between the day before the start of the prisoner's trial and the conclusion of the trial—
- (a) the officer may delay bringing a charge under paragraph (1) until the relevant criminal proceedings are concluded; and
 - (b) where the officer delays bringing the charge and the prisoner is subsequently sentenced to imprisonment, the officer may only bring the charge if it is brought no later than 48 hours after the prisoner returns to custody at any prison.
- (4) A charge under paragraph (1) may be brought against a prisoner for an alleged breach of discipline committed in another prison but only in accordance with rule 116.

Disciplinary hearings

113.—(1) Where a charge has been brought against a prisoner under rule 112, the Governor must hold a hearing into the alleged breach of discipline no later than—

- (a) the next day after the charge has been brought; or
- (b) where the next day is a Sunday or a public holiday, the day after that Sunday or public holiday, unless in exceptional circumstances, the Governor considers that a later hearing is necessary.

(2) A hearing into an alleged breach of discipline under paragraph (1) is to be known as a disciplinary hearing.

(3) The Governor must be satisfied that the prisoner has had sufficient time to prepare his or her case before commencing the disciplinary hearing.

(4) The Governor must adjourn the disciplinary hearing for such period of time as may be reasonably necessary, where the Governor is satisfied—

- (a) that the prisoner requires further time to prepare his or her case; or
- (b) there are other reasonable grounds for an adjournment.

(5) Where an adjournment is granted under paragraph (4)—

- (a) the disciplinary hearing may continue before any Governor provided no submissions have been made by the prisoner; but
- (b) the disciplinary hearing must only be continued by the Governor who granted the adjournment where submissions have been made by the prisoner.

(6) Where the Governor who granted the adjournment is not able to continue the disciplinary hearing under paragraph (5)(b) within a reasonable period of time after the adjournment then—

- (a) the disciplinary hearing must be abandoned; and
- (b) the charge may only be brought again if it is brought within 48 hours of the abandonment of the disciplinary hearing.

(7) At the disciplinary hearing, the Governor must—

- (a) inform the prisoner of the breach of discipline alleged;
- (b) allow the prisoner the opportunity to present his or her case;

- (c) allow the prisoner the opportunity to call witnesses where permitted to do so under paragraph (8); and
- (d) subject to paragraph (12), allow the prisoner to cross-examine any other witnesses.

(8) At the disciplinary hearing, the prisoner may request that a witness be called and this request must be granted by the Governor where the Governor is reasonably satisfied that the evidence the witness is likely to give will be relevant to the determination of the charge.

(9) The Governor may, on the application of a prisoner, permit the prisoner to be represented at the hearing by a legal adviser where in exceptional circumstances the Governor considers such representation is necessary or desirable.

(10) Subject to paragraphs (11) and (12), the Governor may, at the disciplinary hearing, take into account any relevant evidence in any form, including—

- (a) oral evidence from any person;
- (b) written evidence from any person;
- (c) documents and records;
- (d) film and photographs;
- (e) sound recordings; and
- (f) other physical evidence.

(11) For the purposes of paragraph (10)—

- (a) where any evidence in paragraph (10)(c) to (e) is to be considered at the disciplinary hearing, the prisoner must be given an opportunity to look at and consider that evidence before presenting his or her case to the disciplinary hearing; and
- (b) evidence listed in paragraph (10)(b) to (f) may only be considered at the disciplinary hearing without associated oral evidence if the prisoner agrees or if paragraph (12) applies.

(12) The Governor may take into account written evidence relating to the analysis of a sample provided in accordance with rule 93 or 94, written by the person who carried out that analysis, without requiring the person's attendance at the disciplinary hearing if—

- (a) the person is not an officer or employee;
- (b) the prisoner has been afforded the opportunity to make representations about why the person should give oral evidence; and
- (c) the Governor is satisfied, having considered any representations from the prisoner, that it is appropriate to admit the evidence and that there is no sufficient reason why the person needs to give oral evidence.

(13) The Governor must consider all the relevant evidence before making a finding and, for a prisoner to be found guilty of a breach of discipline, the Governor must be satisfied beyond reasonable doubt.

(14) The Governor must inform the prisoner whether the prisoner has been found guilty or not guilty of the breach of discipline alleged and of the reasons for that decision.

(15) Where the Governor finds that the prisoner is guilty of the breach of discipline alleged, but before determining whether a punishment under rule 114 is appropriate, the Governor must—

- (a) consider whether the breach of discipline is aggravated by virtue of containing an element of discrimination as described in rule 6 and, if so, inform the prisoner of the aggravation; and
- (b) give the prisoner an opportunity to raise any relevant matters in mitigation.

(16) Where the Governor finds that the prisoner is guilty of the breach of discipline charged and that a punishment under rule 114 is appropriate, the Governor must inform the prisoner of—

- (a) the punishment to be imposed on the prisoner under rule 114 including whether the punishment is to be suspended under rule 115; and
- (b) the reasons for the Governor's decision to impose the punishment.

Punishment

114.—(1) A Governor may impose on a prisoner one or more of the following punishments where a prisoner is found guilty of a breach of discipline—

- (a) a caution;
- (b) forfeiture of any privileges granted under the system of privileges applicable to a prisoner for a period not exceeding 14 days;
- (c) stoppage of or deduction from earnings for a period not exceeding 56 days and of an amount not exceeding one half of the prisoner's earnings in any week (or part thereof) falling within the period specified;
- (d) cellular confinement for a period not exceeding 3 days;
- (e) in the case of an untried prisoner found guilty of escaping or attempting to escape, forfeiture of the entitlement to wear his or her own clothing under rule 32 for any period as may be specified;
- (f) in the case of an untried prisoner or a civil prisoner, forfeiture of any or all of the entitlements referred to in rules 45 and 52 for any period as may be specified; and
- (g) forfeiture of the entitlement to withdraw money in terms of rule 51(3) for a period not exceeding 14 days.

(2) In setting the level of punishment, the Governor must consider whether the breach of discipline was aggravated in terms of rule 113(15)(a).

(3) If a prisoner is found guilty of more than one breach of discipline arising out of an incident, the punishments that may be imposed under this rule (except for cellular confinement under paragraph (1)(d)) may be ordered to run consecutively.

(4) Where cellular confinement is imposed on a prisoner under paragraph (1)(d)—

- (a) the Governor must inform a healthcare professional as soon as possible;
- (b) any entitlement of the prisoner under these Rules will not be affected by the imposition of cellular confinement, except insofar as expressly provided in a direction under subparagraph (c); and
- (c) the prisoner must serve the period of confinement in accordance with the provisions of, and subject to any conditions imposed by, a direction made by the Scottish Ministers.

Suspended punishments

115.—(1) The Governor may order that a punishment imposed under rule 114(1), other than a caution, is to be suspended for a period of up to six months from the date of the Governor's decision under rule 113(16).

(2) Where a prisoner is found guilty of a further breach of discipline committed during the period of suspension ordered by the Governor under paragraph (1), the Governor dealing with that breach of discipline may direct—

- (a) that the suspended punishment is to take effect;
- (b) that the suspended punishment and the further punishment (except for cellular confinement under rule 114(1)(d)) are to be served consecutively;
- (c) that the period or amount of the suspended punishment is to be reduced and will take effect as so reduced;
- (d) that the suspended punishment is to be suspended again for a period of up to six months from the date of the Governor's direction;
- (e) that the further punishment is to be suspended for a period of up to six months from the date of the Governor's direction; or
- (f) that both the suspended punishment and the further punishment are to be suspended for a period of up to six months from the date of the Governor's direction.

(3) In this rule “suspended punishment” means a punishment suspended in accordance with paragraph (1) and “further punishment” means a punishment imposed for a further breach of discipline committed during the period of suspension referred to in paragraph (1).

Breaches of discipline committed in another prison or during transfer 116.—(1) This rule applies where a prisoner has been transferred from one prison (“the transferring prison”) to another (“the receiving prison”).

(2) The prisoner may be charged with a breach of discipline alleged to have taken place prior to the prisoner’s reception at the receiving prison only if—

- (a) an officer of the transferring prison reports the alleged breach to the Governor of the receiving prison within 3 days of the prisoner’s reception at the receiving prison (excluding Sundays and public holidays); and
- (b) no charge in respect of the breach of discipline has been brought at the transferring prison.

Breaches of discipline involving the use of controlled drugs

117.—(1) If a prisoner is charged with a breach of discipline by contravening paragraph 27 of Schedule 1 in circumstances where—

- (a) the prisoner has been transferred to the prison (“the receiving prison”) from another prison;
- (b) the controlled drug specified in the relevant charge may have been administered to the prisoner before reception in the receiving prison; but
- (c) the prisoner was detained in a prison throughout the period during which the drug might have been administered, the Governor of the receiving prison may deal with that matter as if the breach of discipline occurred within the receiving prison.

(2) Where an untried prisoner—

- (a) provides a sample in accordance with rule 93;
- (b) is alleged to have committed a breach of discipline by contravening paragraph 27 of Schedule 1;
- (c) has been detained in a prison throughout the period during which the drug might have been administered; and
- (d) is convicted and sentenced to imprisonment following the provision of the sample, the Governor of the prison to which the prisoner is committed following conviction may deal with that matter as if the breach of discipline occurred within that prison.

(3) It is a defence for a prisoner charged with a breach of discipline by contravening paragraph 27 of Schedule 1 to show that—

- (a) the controlled drug had been, prior to its administration, lawfully in the prisoner’s possession for the prisoner’s use or was administered to the prisoner in the course of a lawful supply of the drug to the prisoner by another person;
- (b) the controlled drug was administered by or to the prisoner in circumstances in which the prisoner did not know and had no reason to suspect that such a drug was being administered; or
- (c) the controlled drug was administered by or to the prisoner under duress or to the prisoner without consent in circumstances where it was not reasonable for the prisoner to have resisted.

Disciplinary appeals

118.—(1) A prisoner who is found guilty of any breach of discipline, in accordance with rule 113, may appeal the decision in accordance with this rule not later than 14 days after the date of the decision.

(2) An appeal brought under this rule must be in writing and is to be known as a disciplinary appeal.

(3) A disciplinary appeal may be against—

- (a) both the finding of guilt and any punishment imposed under rule 114; or
- (b) only the punishment imposed under rule 114,

but the appeal does not suspend that punishment.

(4) A disciplinary appeal may only be made where the disciplinary hearing—

- (a) was chaired by any officer other than the Governor in Charge, to the internal complaints committee;
- (b) was chaired by the Governor in Charge, to the Scottish Ministers;
- (c) took place in a contracted out prison, to the Scottish Ministers.

(5) An appeal under paragraph (4)(a) must be dealt with as if it were a complaint to the internal complaints committee made under rule 123 but the Governor must, if recommended to do so by the internal complaints committee—

- (a) quash any finding of guilt; or
- (b) remit or mitigate any punishment (other than a punishment imposed under rule 114 where the period for which the punishment was imposed has expired by the date of the decision of the appeal).

(6) Where an appeal is made under paragraph (4)(b) or (c) the Scottish Ministers must—

- (a) investigate any relevant matters raised in the appeal; and
- (b) provide a written decision to the prisoner within 20 days of the appeal being made.

(7) The Scottish Ministers may, either in the course of a disciplinary appeal brought under paragraph (4)(b) or (c) or of their own volition, in relation to a prisoner who has been found guilty of any breach of discipline—

- (a) quash any finding of guilt;
- (b) remit or mitigate any punishment (other than a punishment imposed under rule 114 where the period for which the punishment was imposed has expired by the date of the decision of the appeal);
- (c) substitute another punishment which is, in the Scottish Ministers' opinion, less severe; or
- (d) in the case of a disciplinary appeal, refuse the appeal.

(8) If the Governor quashes any finding of guilt under paragraph (5)(a), or Scottish Ministers quash any finding of guilt under paragraph (7)(a), the Governor must destroy any record in the prisoner's file which relates to the alleged breach of discipline except where the record, or a part of it, relates to any other finding of breach of discipline which continues to form part of the prisoner's record.

(9) Following the conclusion of the appeals procedure in relation to any appeal brought under this rule, a prisoner is not entitled to make any further appeal or complaint under these Rules in relation to the same matter to which the breach of discipline in question related.

Direction with respect to the disciplinary appeals procedure

119.—(1) The Scottish Ministers may provide in a direction such conditions as they consider appropriate with respect to the form and manner in which—

- (a) a disciplinary appeal may be made; and

- (b) any decision in relation to a disciplinary appeal may be given.
- (2) The Governor must ensure that the following are provided for prisoners—
 - (a) supplies of any form specified in a direction made under paragraph (1);
 - (b) assistance in the completion of any such form; and
 - (c) assistance in writing a disciplinary appeal under rule 118.

- (a) a matter to which rules 118, 120, 121 and 124 relate; or
- (b) a matter concerning any aspect of the healthcare provided to the prisoner by a healthcare professional either within or outwith the prison.

(2) A prisoner who wishes to make a complaint to which this rule applies must make that complaint to the residential first line manager (“the RFLM”) either orally or in writing but, where the complaint raises any allegations against an officer or employee, the complaint must be made in writing.

(3) The RFLM must, within 48 hours of receiving a complaint under paragraph (2), allow the prisoner the opportunity to discuss the complaint with him or her with a view to resolving the complaint.

(4) Where the complaint cannot be resolved by discussion under paragraph (3), the RFLM must—

- (a) instruct an officer to conduct an investigation into the complaint and report back to the RFLM, either orally or in writing, as soon as practicable having regard to the time limit contained in sub-paragraph (b); and

Referral of complaints to the Internal Complaints Committee

123.—(1) A prisoner who has made a complaint to the RFLM under rule 122 and is not satisfied with the response issued by the RFLM may refer the complaint to the internal complaints committee (“the ICC”).

(6) If a prisoner making a referral under paragraph (1) intends—

- (b) to call witnesses to give evidence in support of the complaint, the prisoner must, prior to the hearing, give written notice to the ICC of that intention and the reasons why the prisoner considers it necessary to do so.

(7) The chair of the ICC may refuse to allow a prisoner to call a particular witness if, having discussed the matter with the prisoner, the chair is reasonably satisfied that the evidence which the witness is likely to give will be of no relevance or value in considering the complaint and, in that event, the chair must inform the prisoner concerned prior to the hearing.

(8) As soon as practicable following the hearing, but having regard to the time-limit contained in paragraph (9), the ICC must—

- (a) consider and decide upon such recommendations as it sees fit in relation to the complaint; and

(2) A complaint to which this rule applies must be—

- (a) made in writing;
- (b) placed in a sealed envelope; and
- (c) given to the residential officer, who must convey the complaint to the Governor without delay.

(3) Where the Governor is of the opinion that a complaint made under paragraph (2) is not about a confidential matter and is therefore not a complaint to which this rule applies, the Governor must—

- (a) inform the prisoner as soon as reasonably practicable that the complaint is one which should be made in accordance with rule 122; and
- (b) return the written complaint to the prisoner in a sealed envelope.

(4) Subject to paragraph (5), the Governor must consider any complaint to which this rule applies and inform the prisoner in writing and in a sealed envelope of his or her decision within 7 days of the complaint being made and of the reasons for that decision.

(5) If, in exceptional circumstances, the Governor is unable to give a decision within the period specified in paragraph (4), he or she must—

- (a) inform the prisoner of the reasons for the delay;
- (b) advise the prisoner of the timescale within which the decision will be given; and
- (c) inform the prisoner in writing and in a sealed envelope of the decision and of the reasons for the decision as soon as practicable.

(2) The Governor must ensure that the following are provided for prisoners—

- (a) supplies of any form specified in a direction made under paragraph (1);

(2) Where the Governor receives notification from a healthcare professional or prison officer that a prisoner is likely to give birth prior to the expiration of her sentence or period of committal the Governor must, where possible, ask the prisoner if any relative or friend, or any other person, should be informed.

(3) Subject to paragraphs (4) and (5), where the prisoner wishes any relative, friend or other person to be informed of the prisoner's pregnancy the Governor must inform any such person accordingly.

(4) The Governor is not required to inform more than 2 persons.

(5) The Governor must not inform any friend or relative of the prisoner without her consent.

(6) A prisoner who is pregnant is required to undertake work throughout her pregnancy but may only undertake work which the Governor has deemed to be suitable for a pregnant woman to undertake.

(7) A prisoner who is pregnant must be provided with food and drink which take into account any dietary requirements during pregnancy.

(8) Where a prisoner who is pregnant requires to be contained in specified conditions in accordance with rule 41(1), as a result of her pregnancy or otherwise, she must be kept under supervision to such extent as is reasonably practicable or be required to share accommodation in a cell or room with a suitable prisoner where the Governor, on the advice of a healthcare professional, considers it appropriate.

(9) The Governor must arrange for the transfer of the prisoner to a hospital outwith the prison for the purposes of giving birth upon receiving the advice of a healthcare professional on this matter.

Accommodation of female prisoners' babies

128.—(1) Subject to paragraphs (2), (3) and (4), the Governor may permit a female prisoner to have her baby with her in prison.

(2) Where a female prisoner is permitted to have her baby with her in prison—

(a) the prisoner is responsible for the care of the baby; and

(3) Subject to any direction made by the Scottish Ministers under this rule, the Governor may, in granting permission under paragraph (1), impose such conditions as the Governor thinks fit.

(4) A female prisoner who is permitted to have her baby with her in prison may, with the permission of the Governor, arrange, at her expense or at the expense of some other person, for the provision of additional articles or food for the baby.

(5) In granting permission under paragraphs (1) or (4), and in imposing conditions under paragraph (3), the Governor must take into consideration—

- (b) take into account any advice received from a healthcare professional as to the prisoner’s fitness to travel, prior to ordering the transfer of that prisoner.

Provision of clothing and return of property

(2) A prisoner to whom this rule applies may be treated for the purposes of section 220 of the 1995 Act^(a) as having paid to the Governor any sum in part satisfaction of the fine provided the prisoner makes payment to the Governor using one of the approved methods of payment specified in a direction by the Scottish Ministers.

(3) The Scottish Ministers may also specify in a direction made under paragraph (2) the forms of identification which may be required for the purposes of certain methods of payment.

(a) 1995 c.46; section 220 was amended by the Criminal Justice (Scotland) Act 2003, Schedule 4, paragraph 3.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Rules)

These Rules replace the Prisons and Young Offenders Institutions (Scotland) Rules 2006 as amended. While some of the changes from the 2006 Rules have been to modernise the language of the Rules there are many changes to the substance of the Rules as well. The main substantive changes from the 2006 Rules are as follows:

Section 110 of the Criminal Justice and Licensing (Scotland) Act 2010 will remove the duty on the Scottish Ministers in section 3A of the Act to secure the provision of appropriate medical services in prisons. This duty will then fall on Health Boards under the National Health Service (Scotland) Act 1978. As a result all rules imposing obligations on medical officers have been removed from these Rules.

A new rule has been added (rule 41) which allows a Governor to order that a prisoner be accommodated in specified conditions following advice from a healthcare professional. This allows certain measures to be taken to protect the health or welfare of the prisoner or other prisoner and the measures include accommodating a prisoner in a specified part of the prison or separately from other prisoners.

The rules on storage of a prisoner's property (rules 46 to 48) have been expanded to clarify what property can be stored in a prisoner's cell and what must be stored in prison storage facilities. New rules have been added (rules 49 and 50) which set out Governors' powers to dispose of a prisoner's property in certain situations.

The rules in Part 8 relating to privileged correspondence (rules 56 to 59) have been expanded to make clear when such correspondence can be opened and, if opened, read by a prison officer. A new rule has been added (rule 60) which enables a person to request that the Governor takes steps to prevent correspondence from a prisoner.

The concept of "purposeful activities" has been introduced in Part 9 of the Rules which encompasses work, education and counselling. The Governor is now under an obligation in terms of rule 84 to provide a range of purposeful activities for prisoners.

The powers of prison officers to search prisoners (rule 92), visitors (rule 106), person providing contracted out services to the prison (rule 108), healthcare professionals (rule 108) and officers and employees (rule 142) have been amended so as that, as far as possible, they contain the same powers and restrictions on those powers.

A new rule has been added to Part 10 (rule 104) setting out the Governor's powers to seize prohibited articles and unauthorised property and what steps the Governor can take to deal with these items once seized.

The rule relating to the admission of visitors (rule 105) has been extended to allow officers to request that a visitor has their photo taken and retained on a database for the purposes of prison order and security, the prevention and detection of crime and the safety of any person within the prison.

The rule relating to disciplinary appeals has been moved into Part 11 and has been expanded to clarify to whom such an appeal should be made in certain circumstances.

The complaints procedure in Part 12 has been streamlined into a two stage process – firstly, a complaint to the residential first line manager and, secondly, a complaint to the internal complaints committee which is ultimately ruled on by the Governor. Following the transfer of prisoner complaints from the Scottish Prison Complaints Commission to the Scottish Public Services Ombudsman by the Scottish Parliamentary Commissions and Commissioners etc. Act 2010, the Governor is now under an obligation in rules 123(10) and 124(6) to inform the prisoner of the prisoner's right to refer the complaint to the SPSO and of the processes involved in such a referral.

The various forms of temporary release have been amended so that there are now five separate forms of temporary release in Part 15. These are: Home leave; Unescorted day release; Unescorted day release for compassionate reasons; Temporary release for work; and Unescorted day release for health reasons.

These Rules are drafted in gender neutral terms and the numbering of each Part reflects the numbering of the Parts of the 2006 Rules in order to ensure ease of reference for those who have worked closely with the 2006 Rules. Each Part of these Rules can be summarised as follows:

Part 1 of the Rules (rules 1 to 7) makes provision for citation, commencement, interpretation and application. It also provides for certain duties of the Governor in relation to elimination of discrimination (rule 6) and the making available of a copy of the Rules and of any directions to officers and prisoners (rule 7). Rule 3 provides that the Rules apply to young offenders institutions and to young offenders as they apply to prisons and prisoners. Rule 4 makes provision for the application of the rules to contracted out prisons.

Part 2 (rules 8 to 16) deals with matters relating to reception of prisoners, prisoner records, classification of prisoners and the location of prisoners within prisons. In relation to reception, there are provisions as to the manner in which a prisoner is to be dealt with including the information the prisoner must be given (rules 9 to 11). Rules 12 and 13 deals with registration and records of prisoners while rule 14 relates to the classification of prisoners. Rule 15 deals with the allocation of prisoners within prisons and rule 16 with the separation of different categories of prisoners.

Part 3 (rules 17 to 27) relates to procedures for assigning supervision levels to prisoners and for imposing special security measures on prisoners. Rule 17 sets out what supervision levels are for while rules 18 to 21 set out how a supervision level is to be assigned and subsequently reviewed. The imposition of special security measures is dealt with in rules 23 and 24 while the requirement to conduct a review of these measures is set out in rule 25.

Part 4 (rules 28 to 35) regulates matters affecting the physical and personal environment in which prisoners are confined. Rules 28 to 30 specify conditions relating to prisoners' cellular accommodation. Rules 31 to 33 make provision for requirements in relation to prisoners' clothing. Rules 34 and 35 set out requirements in relation to, respectively, prisoners' hygiene and the provision of food for prisoners.

Part 5 (rules 36 to 43) makes provision in relation to the health and welfare of prisoners. This Part of the rules has been reduced significantly by the omission of all obligations on medical officers due to the transfer of prison healthcare to Health Boards. The rule on smoking (rule 36) has been amended so as to provide that prisons are non-smoking but smoking is permitted in a prisoner's cell unless that cell has been designated as non-smoking by the Governor. A new rule has (rule 37) been added to oblige the Scottish Ministers to provide accommodation for the provision of healthcare services by healthcare professionals in prison. The requirement on the Governor to notify a healthcare professional of any concerns relating to a prisoner's health (rule 38) remains as does the obligation to make arrangements for a prisoner to be treated by a medical practitioner or at a medical facility outwith the prison (rule 39). The Governor remains under an obligation to give effect to the recommendations of healthcare professionals (rule 40). The new rule on accommodation in specified conditions (rule 41) is discussed above.

Part 6 (rule 44) has been restricted to setting out the rights of prisoners to practise their religion in prison and the duties and powers of the Governor to ensure or restrict the exercise of those rights.

Part 7 (rules 45 to 52) makes provision for the system of privileges that must operate within a prison and for the regulation of prisoners' property within the prison. Rule 45 requires governors to establish a system of privileges in the prison and the direction making power has been clarified so that provision can be made in a direction for the withdrawal of privileges. The storage and disposal of prisoners' property (rules 46 to 50) is discussed above. The provisions relating a prisoner's money and the supply of reading and writing material to prisoners are found in rules 51 and 52 respectively.

Part 8 (rules 53 to 79) deals with various matters relating to arrangements enabling prisoners to communicate with persons outwith the prison. Correspondence is dealt with in rules 54 to 62. Special provisions relating to certain privileged correspondence are contained in rules 56 to 59. The entitlement of prisoners to make telephone calls from the prison is regulated by rule 62 and any direction which may be made for the purposes of that rule. Visits to prisoners are provided for in rules 63 to 78. Rule 63 specifies the minimum entitlement to visits for prisoners (rule 64 making similar provision for untried and civil prisoners). Rule 65 enables certain prisoners to carry forward their unused visiting allowance to use that allowance at another prison. Rules 66 to 76 make special provision in relation to visits by legal advisers, procurators fiscal, police constables, representatives of diplomatic services and national or international authorities or organisations, persons in connection with legal proceedings, Members of Parliament, members of the Scottish Parliament, representatives to the European Parliament, the Parliamentary Commissioner for Administration, the Parole Board for Scotland, media representatives and persons in connection with disciplinary proceedings. Rule 77 enables the Governor to terminate visits in certain circumstances and enables the Scottish Ministers to impose such conditions as may be specified in a direction on the entitlement of a prisoner to receive visits. Rule 78 provides for the use of closed visiting facilities in certain circumstances. Special arrangements for prisoners committed to prison in default of payments are set out in rule 79 to enable them to communicate with any person to arrange payment of money in order to secure their release.

Part 9 (rules 80 to 89) makes provision in relation to work, education, earnings and recreation. Other than untried and civil prisoners, all prisoners are required to work subject to certain exceptions (rule 82). Prisoners who work are entitled to receive earnings for that work in terms of rule 86. The rule on purposeful activity (rule 84), which includes the provision of work, education and counselling, is discussed above. Rules 87 and 88 make provision in relation to exercise and recreation. Prisoners are not permitted to carry on any trade, profession or vocation from the prison but are not prevented from writing articles or books (rule 89).

Part 10 (rules 90 to 109) makes provision in relation to security matters and the control of prisoners. This part is broken down into four smaller sections – supervision and control of prisoners; confinement and custody of prisoners; seizure and control of property; and supervision and control of visitors. The general duties of the Governor and prison officers are dealt with in rules 90 and 91. The power of officers to search a prisoner is set out in rule 92 while powers to test a prisoner for controlled drugs and alcohol are set out in rules 93 and 94. The rules on confinement and custody of prisoners are set out in rules 95 to 101. The power to remove a prisoner from association is set out in rule 95 and this rule now clarifies how an extension to such an order granted by Scottish Ministers should be calculated. Rule 95 also provides for representations to be made by the prisoner at certain stages of the process. The seizure and control of property is addressed in rules 102 to 104 and the new power to dispose of these items (rule 104) is discussed above. Rules 105 to 109 deal with the supervision and control of prisoners including an officer's power to refuse access to a visitor who, amongst other things, refuses to consent to being searched or who does not satisfy the officer as to their identity. Visitors can be removed from the prison under rule 107 where, amongst other things, their conduct is prejudicial to the security and order of the prison. The powers to search visitors (rule 108), those providing contracted out services and healthcare professionals (both rule 108) coincide with the power to search officers and employees albeit that the power to search prisoners, by necessity, is more extensive.

Part 11 (rules 110 to 119) makes provision in relation to the disciplinary process. The acts or omissions constituting a breach of discipline are specified in Schedule 1. Rules 111 to 113 relate to the reporting and charging of breaches of discipline and specify the procedure to be followed at disciplinary hearings. Rules 114 and 115 regulate the imposition of punishments in relation to breaches of discipline. Rules 116 and 117 make specific provision for breaches of discipline committed in another prison or involving the use of controlled drugs. The rule on disciplinary appeals (rule 118) which was contained in Part 12 of the 2006 Rules has been moved to Part 11.

Part 12 (rules 120 to 125) makes provision in relation to requests and complaints by prisoners. The main internal complaints procedures are set out in rules 122 to 124. The process involves an initial complaint to the residential first line manager which can be made orally or in writing (unless allegations are made against an officer or employee) and a second stage process where the complaint is referred to the internal complaints committee. The committee make a recommendation to the Governor who must then decide whether to endorse or reject that recommendation and provide reasons to the prisoner.

Part 13 (rules 126 to 128) makes provision in relation to female prisoners, particularly pregnant prisoners or prisoners who have babies and who are permitted to have them in prison. The Governor must take account of the interests of the baby and the ability of the prisoner to care for her baby in deciding whether to permit the prisoner to have her baby with her in prison.

Part 14 (rules 129 to 133) makes provision in relation to arrangements for prisoners who are being transferred or released; and for part payment of fines by fine defaulters.

Part 15 (rules 134 to 138) regulates the temporary release of prisoners. The eligibility criteria for temporary release are set out in rule 134 and the procedure by which temporary release can be granted is set out in rule 135. The five different forms of temporary release are defined in rule 136 and the provision by which Governors can recall prisoners to prison from temporary release is set out in rule 137.

Part 16 (rules 139 to 144) makes provision in relation to officers and employees. It prescribes general duties and obligations (rules 139 to 141) and provides power to the Governor to order the search of officers and employees in certain circumstances (rule 142). Officers or employees must not make unauthorised representations to a member of the press in terms of rule 143.

Part 17 (rules 145 to 155) makes provision in relation to visiting committees. Rule 146 sets out the requirements for the constitution of visiting committees for prisons. Rule 147 requires at least one third of the members of each visiting committee for young offenders institutions to be women. Rules 148 to 154 regulate the proceedings of the visiting committees and the duties of members. Rule 155 sets out the application of Part 17 to visiting committees for legalised police cells. Schedules 2 and 3 set out which local authorities can appoint members of visiting committees and how those appointments should be made.

Part 18 (rules 156 to 158) contains supplementary provisions in relation to various matters. Rule 156 contains supplementary provision as to the making of directions under any of the direction making powers in the Rules. Rules 157 and 158, and Schedules 4 and 5, provide for the revocation of various rules and make various savings and transitional provisions.
