

Article 13

The state shall be required to guarantee the physical and mental integrity, life and safety of each person living on any national territory. No one shall be deprived arbitrarily of life or liberty.