

Article 20

The right to life is the first right of any human being. The law protects this right.