

Article 19

The State has the absolute obligation to guarantee the right to life, health and respect of the human person for all citizens without distinction, in conformity with the Universal Declaration of the Rights of Man.

Article 20

The death penalty is abolished in all cases.